CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Sheriff Taylor Speaks To Lions

C. E. Taylor, Sheriff of Palm Beach County, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Lions Club, Tuesday. Introduced by Mel Stanley, he stated that it is his aim to raise the caliber of law enforcement in the County and to put it on a professional rather than a political basis.

Sheriff Taylor explained some of the circumstances surrounding his appointment and stated that he has a background of 23 years as a law enforcement officer in the Florida Highway Patrol before his more recent service with the Turnpike Authority.

The Sheriff stated further that if he can have a year to organize his department, he feels that the "Citizens Committee" or "Crime Commission" recommended by the Grand Jury would be unnecessary and that the money which such an organization would cost could be put to better use. In reply to questions regarding gambling, he stated that he felt that it was unlikely that all forms of gambling could be completely stamped out in any given area, but that there is not at this time any large-scale organized gambling in Palm Beach County.

Dr. Richard C. Lane, second vice-president, presided over the business session.

Visitors were Jack Nash of West Palm Beach, John Ish of Ohio and S. E. Stabler.

Next week, William Benton will present E. A. Jensen, who will show a documentary film released by the Department of the Army explaining the reasons for the call of National Guard Units to active duty. This film is intended to publicize the Homecoming celebration for the Belle Glade National Guard Unit to be held at the Armory on Saturday, August 11, from 5 to 7 p. m.

The number of books being checked out, daily at the Pahokee Public Library is still on the increase, it was announced at the monthly meeting of the Library Board, Monday night, with the chairman, L. L. Shirley, presiding.

A new dictionary, "Merriam Webster Unabridged, Third Edition" has been obtained, and is now available for the use of the public.

The election is to be conducted by the Supervisor of Registration according to procedure used in General Elections. Freeholders, owners of real estate, who are registered voters in Palm Beach County will be eligible to vote.

Two proposals will be on the straw ballot and voters will be instructed to cast their vote for one of the proposals only. Voting machines will be used and set up at the normal precinct locations throughout the two districts.

On the ballot will be the following proposals:

1. For combining the Northwestern and Southwestern Palm Beach County Public Hospital Districts, building a new hospital on State Road 715 in the vicinity of the County Park subject to Bond Referendum.

2. For retaining present hospital districts, improving hospital facilities in the district by remodeling and/or new buildings, subject to Bond Referendum.

Registered freeholders who wish absentee ballots for this election, must apply before the deadline of five days before the election date of August 21. The absentee ballots must be received by 5 p. m. the day before the election. Absentee Ballots may be received from and filed

Residents who have previously registered but who have not voted in the past few elections are urged to re-register as they may have been dropped from the registration rolls.

Owners of property who did not own property when they had last registered must also sign a freeholder's affidavit at the Glades Office Building and can do so up to 14 days prior to the election. Since he will be on vacation, Sunday, July 29, will be his last sermon as active pastor of the local church. Rev. Stewart began his ministry as pastor of the Canal Point Baptist Church in 1957. During these six years many major improvements have been made, some of which are:

1. Placing a recessed lighting system in the Church Auditorium.

Tax Millage Down Slightly In County

The county commission gave final approval this week to its annual budget which this year calls for expenditures of little more than $12 million.

The tax levy was set at 6.89 mills which is slightly less than last year's millage.

In other actions this week the commission voted to renew-issuing service pins to county employees based on terms of service from five years and over.

Heard that the municipality of Lake Clarke Shores had declined to pay the county an $800 bill for spraying Lake Clarke in an effort to kill weeds in the lake. The commission said the town felt the job to be unsuccessful since the weeds are now returning in the lake.

Approved a trip for Commission Chairman Lake Lytal to attend a meeting of the Governor's Citizen Advisory Committee which is meeting this week in Orlando.

HOME FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sapp have returned from a three week vacation tour of Florida. While at Lake Kerr they visited Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clause, former residents of Pahokee. Mayor Back Home Has Good Rec News

City officials won a couple and lost a couple in a session with Corps of Engineers staffers in Jacksonville, a session aimed at improving Pahokee's recreational facilities along the Lake Okechobee shoreline.

Mayor Duncan Padgett reported the corps will:

Re pave the mile of levee-top roadway now existing when the levee is raised, to retain the city's access to two rec areas now in existence.

Double the width of a second mile of levee to permit the city to double its recreational area—but the engineers won't pave the second mile.

Padgett said the corps will not.

Widen an additional two-mile strip of the new levee city officials hoped would give them a Pahokee-to-Canal Point lake front rec area.

Create an offshore island for the city to protect its quarter-million dollar breakwater.

The Jacksonville meeting happy with the immediate progress and hopeful for the future.

"The corps is going to create three islands, one north of us and two south of us."

"We may get one someday, but not right now."

He also said a request was made for fill to be pumped into the city's lakefront, to create a sandy beach where it's "pretty rocky right now."

"It was a 'successful trip' he said. 'But we'll continue to work for whatever help we can get in developing the lakefront."

"We're going to have a wonderful recreation area there in a few years, one of the finest in the county."

Even so, with some drawbacks, the areas accessible to the public are getting plenty of use.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The Palm Beach County Commission this week reached an agreement with the Mal Tool & Engineering Co., a tenant at International Airbase, in which the firm will be allowed to increase the size of its airport facilities.

A week ago the commission turned down a proposal by the firm which provided for a long term lease arrangement.

The pact approved this week calls for the company to construct some $15,000 worth of additional work space at its own expense. The county agreed to a three year lease with an additional three year option at the end of the three year period. The board turned down the firms request that its rent be reduced from $322 to $150 per month.

The firm said it needed extra space in order to move in additional equipment to be obtained from the Standard Tool Co. of Ft. Lauderdale, which has gone out of business.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN FLORIDA, the State Legislature proclaimed that all the public lands to which the state claimed title through secession should be restored to market at $1 and $2 an acre, soldiers to have the right to buy at 1/4 these prices. Throughout the state the event was celebrated with foaming steins of beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation — light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southern hospitality to any occasion. Floridians have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men . . . citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life . . ."

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

For 20 years America's newspapers have published Savings Bonds ads at no cost to the Government. The Treasury Dept. is grateful to The Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

Picture of a Promise

*Sure, she's a grand old flag!
That's why we salute her.
That's why we pledge allegiance to her.*

That pledge, in its simplest terms, is another way of saying, "Count me in. You're my country and I love you and need you. Your problems are my problems, and I'm with you all the way."

Your country's biggest single problem is the perpetual responsibility for keeping the peace its people want. You can help with this problem by remembering this:

Peace costs money. Money for military and industrial strength. Money for science and education. And money saved by individuals — by you — to help keep the economy strong. Bonds provide this money.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every pay day. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

Progress depends on spiritually meaningful activity. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Scriptural passages will include these verses from Proverbs (4): "Let thine eyelids look straight before thee. Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established."

A citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 323): "In order to apprehend more, we must put into practice what we already know. We must recollect that Truth is demonstrable when understood, and that good is not understood until demonstrated."

The Golden Text is from II Timothy (2): "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Bridal Shower For Miss Susan Johnson

A bridal shower in compliment to Miss Susan Griscom Johnson, whose marriage to Thomas Jackson Morrison, Jr. of Pensacola, will take place July 28, was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Friend Friday evening. Hostesses with Mrs. Friend were Mrs. D. W. Cunningham, Mrs. L. L. Shirley, Mrs. Allan Fowler, Mrs. W. O. Moss, Mrs. J. T. Platt, Mrs. J. G. Thomas, Jr. and Mrs. Robert C. Woolter.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Friend, were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. C. G. Johnson. The corsage of white hibiscus worn by Miss Johnson and the pink corsage worn by Mrs. Johnson, were made by Mrs. Friend.

The motif of pink and white was carried out in beautiful arrangements of pink and white hibiscus blossoms which were placed artistically throughout the area of entertainment.

The refreshment table was laid with an imported cloth of linen embroidered with cutwork. The table decorations featured a miniature bride dressed in white, with her three attendants dressed in pastels. The punch bowl was of crystal and the compotes filled with flowered mints were of silver. Each portion of cake was decorated with pink rosebuds.

Miss Judy Platt and Miss Anita Cowart assisted in serving and Miss Gayle Johnson had charge of the guest book.

Among the lovely gifts received by the honoree was a sterling silver gravy ladle, her chosen pattern, presented to her by the hostesses. Refreshments were served to approximately 75 guests during the evening.

Seaquarium To Have A Monorail

MIAMI—Plans for a one-half mile monorail system around the tourist attraction Miami Seaquarium have been developed by Wometco Enterprises, the corporation that runs the marine life exhibit. Wometco would lease the monorail with an eye to the possibility of using monorails as a future system of rapid transit for the Miami area.

The Dade County Commission must approve the idea because the Seaquarium is leased from the county. The county would share in the profits from the transportation system. The project, according to early estimates, would cost between $250,000 and $360,000. Ten 16-foot cars would travel suspended from an overhead rail carrying 12 passengers each.

Mr. and Mrs. Minter Collins and their son, Lewis Collins, had as weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson and daughter, Miss Betty Johnson of St. Petersburg.

Miss Sylvia Parrish who is a student in the School of Nursing at Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando, has returned to her duties after spending the weekend in Pahokee with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Parrish.

Janette Harrington, Canal Point Wins $1,000 Scholarship Award

Miss Janette Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Roswell Harrington of Canal Point was one of two winners to receive the Annual Winn-Dixie $1,000 college scholarship award. It has been announced by the Florida Farm Bureau in Gainesville. The other winner along with Miss Harrington is James L. Busby of Gainesville.

The scholarships are awarded each year to an outstanding farm boy and girl. The selections are made by the Farm Bureau, but the funds are contributed by the Winn-Dixie Stores Foundations. The foundations granted the first of the scholarships in 1949, and since then a total of 25 one thousand dollar scholarships have been awarded to deserving young farm boys and girls.

Second and third places in the girls' division went to Janet Logan Denlinger, Dade City, Pasco County, Florida, and Ann Whittington, Mount Dora, Lake County, Florida. In the boys' division, the second and third places went to Dalton Yancey, Umatilla, Lake County, and Sam B. Baker, New Port Richey, Pasco County, Florida, in that order.

The second and third place winners are selected in case the first place winners become unable to accept the award.

Latest discovery of the destructive Mediterranean fruit fly (otherwise known as the medfly) in the Miami area emphasizes the importance of keeping our guard up against outbreaks of destructive insect pests and animal diseases.

When you note it cost Florida and the Federal government 10 million dollars to wipe out the previous medfly outbreak in 1956, you can see that it pays to keep inspectors on the job all the time to detect any reappearance so it can be jumped on—fast.

Like the general whose strategy for winning battles was to "git thar fustest with the mostest," we wasted no time in starting eradication operations against the new medfly menace. A force of 80 State and Federal men trained in insect extermination, and plenty of equipment, were concentrated in the Miami area immediately. If we're lucky, the costly pest will be contained and wiped out there before it can spread and do untold damage to Florida's valuable fruit crops, including citrus.

In spite of all the efforts of State and Federal authorities to prevent the introduction or spread of insect pests, it sometimes looks like a losing fight. An example is the recent action by the Texas Department of Agriculture to lift a quarantine that required the fumigation of citrus fruit from Florida and other citrus-producing areas.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White notified us that all requirements for the fumigation and certification of fruit from Florida have been rescinded. This wasn't because Florida and other states and countries had done such a fine job of eliminating citrus surface pests which were responsible for the quarantine. Rather, it was the outright truth that these unwanted pests had become established in Texas and there no longer was need for restriction on the movement of citrus into that state.

This may sound a little like one of those "if-you-can't-whip-them-join-them" stories. Actually, it is far more serious than that. Maybe it was inevitable that these pests would become established in Texas, but until they were, Commissioner White and his staff, were determined to fight the threat as long as possible. The result in this instance was a sad ending to a story, but the sort of ending that we may be reading in more than one agricultural story in the future.

It is up to agriculture officials in each state to defend that state against foreign insect pests and diseases as long as possible. That is what the Department of Agriculture is doing in Florida; that is what the departments are doing in Georgia, in Texas, in California, and in dozens of other states. It isn't always a losing fight and it is up to the various Departments of Agriculture to win if they can.

We have licked the Mediterranean fruit fly before. We did the same thing with the screwworm which plagued Florida cattle for so many years. We not only chased that pest out of the state, but we whipped it again when it stuck its head back across the border.

Our various divisions are set up to help agriculture in every way possible. This is especially true of our Divisions of Plant Industry and Animal Industry. Most of the work of these two groups is regulatory, which means that everything they do may not be agreeable to everyone. Back of every bit of action, however, is the determination to keep Florida clean and clear of pests which would threaten serious losses to our agriculture.

The war which the Florida Department of Agriculture wages against insects and animal diseases is a major campaign and deserves support. Let the Texas story be an example. If everyone abides by the rules and regulations set up to combat agriculture's enemies, this story will never become a best seller in Florida.

Plant and animal diseases and insect pests have become an increasing problem in the U. S. due to rapid expansion in foreign commerce and travel. In 1961 a dangerous plant pest was stopped every 20 minutes at U. S. ports, borders or airports, according to authoritative statistics.

Losses from crop and animal pests and diseases of foreign origin cost the nation more than 9 Billion dollars a year. Five new pests have invaded the U. S. since 1950. Included are soybean cyst nematode, witch weed and the Khapra beetle, one of the most destructive grain storage pests.

The African red fever tick, first in North America on Florida's east coast a couple of years ago, then at Tampa and also at Hudson, N. Y., was traced to shipments of animals from Africa for American zoos or animal compounds. It was wiped out eventually.

The Japanese beetle, however, is now found in 15 eastern seaboard and adjoining states with spot infestations as far west as eastern Missouri, and California has an eradication program going at Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kautz, Ronnie and Kathy, spent last weekend at Salerno.
